

Discover why religion, the autoworkers union, and high-tech industry all have Youngstown in common.

Exciting new research reveals that Youngstown's clergy share mutual concerns for our economy, workers, families, and future!

Based on original sociological research, Rust to Renewal explores the attitudes of a transdenominational sample of Youngstown's clergy toward deindustrialization, job loss, and the future of our economy. Written in an academic format while tempered with simple language, Rust to Renewal will appeal to scholars, businesspeople, government leaders, clergy, and lay people alike.

Visit www.rusttorenewal.com for more information.

A Case Study of the Religious Response to Deindustrialization

RUST TO RENEWAL

Why churches must work together to lead economic and social transformation in Youngstown, Ohio

www.rusttorenewal.com